

Chi-Lites - Have You Seen Her

Why, oh, why
                                                                                            E EE E7
                tom:
                                                               Did she have to leave and go away {2: oh, yeah}
Intro: E Abm A E B7
                                                               Gb7
Oh-oh-oh, I've been used to havin' someone to lean on (Spoken; chords as above)
                                                                       Bsus4 B
                                                               And I'm lost
One month ago today
                                                                         B7 B7 A
                                                               Baby, I'm lost (0h)
I was happy as a lark
                                                                {Repeat verse w/wordless vocal first two lines (2X)}
But now I go for walks
            В7
                                                                [Terceira Parte]
To the movies - maybe to the park
And have a seat on the same old bench
                                                                Oh, she left her kiss upon my lips
To watch the children play (huh)
                                                                But left that break within my heart
You know, tomorrow is their future
                                                                        Bsus4 B7
           B7
                                                               Have you seen her?
But to me, just another day
                                                               Tell me, have you seen her?
They all gather around me
They seem to know my name
                                                                [Quarta Parte]
We laugh, tell a few jokes
                                                                Oh, I see her hand reaching out to me
                    B7
But it still doesn't ease my pain
                                                                           F
                                                                Only she can set me free
I know I can't hide from a memory
                                                                        Bsus4 B7
'Though day after day I've tried
                                                               Have you seen her?
I keep sayin' she'll be back
                                                               Tell me, have you seen her?
But today again I lied
                                                                {Repeat bridge}
                                                                {Repeat verse w/wordless vocal first 2 lines (4X)}
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                (Spoken over 2nd and 3rd repeats)
Oh, I see her face everywhere I go
                                                                As another day comes to an end

On the street, and even at the picture show
                                                                I'm lookin' for a letter or somethin'
               B7
Have you seen her?
                                                                                 Bsus4

Tell me, have you seen her?
                                                                               Е

                                                               With all the people I know
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                I'm still a lonely man
                                                               E
You know, it's funny

In the sweet music on my radio
