When i say i don't love you anymore

When i say i don't want you no more it's

Because i want you

I'm just afraid to give you a heart and

Confess you and me from the start

But what will become of me if i lose you

One time

Kept defending myself from you but then

I surrendered

I act like i'm somebody else i'm just a

Pretender

You know the truth i'm crazy for you and

My behalf i don't want to lose

So i need to accept there's no way

To keep living worlds apart

I'm living in this madness

I'm living in this madness

I keep saying i don't need you

I'm denying all appearances

Desguising all the evidences

So why am i still pretending

If i can't deceives my broken heart?

I know i still love you

Enough with my lies

I'm denying my desires

Don't need more than this

I just gotta have your kiss

My life belongs to you

Would please get me out of this mess?

I gotta hear from you, so please say YES

Say that it's true, you miss me too

And you're still think about me

Say that it's true, you miss me too

There's so much more we can live

Because i love you
