

Chris Cornell - Scream

```
Intro: (Gb D Gbm A E Gb D Gbm A B )
                                                                I don't even think you're wrong
Obs: Procure fazer o acorde Gbm com a tônica na 9º casa
                                                                It's how you say it
(corda A ):
                                                                You lose your head
       Gbm
                                                                Girl I'm standing right in front of you
  I take a minute to tell you right
                                                                Throwing out the blame when you know it ain't my fault
 And you can say what you want
                                                                Messing with my brain when you want to see me fall
 You turn around every night
                                                                There may come a time when I don't bother you at all
 So now you're always going off
                                                                It isn't my call, it isn't my call
              D
 Doesn't matter what I done
                                                                                  Gbm
                                                                Hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?
 Or if I even crossed the line
                                                                                       Gbm
                                                                I say hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?
 You start to holler, going for blood
                                                                                        Gbm
                                                                      Gb
                                                                I say hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?
 Girl, it doesn't have to be a fight
                                                                      Gb D
                                                                                        Gbm
                                                                I say hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?
 Throwing out the blame when you know it ain't my fault
                                                                           Gb
                                                                Silence is golden
 Messing with my brain when you want to see me fall
                                                                I used to think that silence was golden
 There may come a time when I don't bother you at all
                                                                         Gb
                   В
  It isn't my call, it isn't my call
                                                                Silence is golden
                                                                I used to think that silence was golden
                                                                        Gb

 I say hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?
                                                                I used to think that silence was golden
  (Gb D Gbm A E Gb D Gbm A B)
  [There's no need to scream, baby
                                                                Hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?
  I'm standing right in front of your face
                                                                      Gb
                                                                                       Gbm
                                                                I say hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?
 Whv?
  I know sometimes we don't get along
                                                                                        Gbm
  So Chris sing the second verse to you
                                                                I say hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?

                                                                                    Gbm
                                                                I say hey, why you keep screaming at the top of your head?
  Take a minute to tell you now
                                                                Silence is golden
 And I don't have to raise my tone
                                                                I used to think that silence was golden
 Take the level and bring it down
  I just want you to know
                                                                Silence is golden
 I got no trouble with what you said
                                                                I used to think that silence was golden
