Intro:  Dbm   B   A

      Dbm                         B
I wish I could tell them all the things, I felt
        A
But nothing seems fair enough to me
      Dbm                         B
I wish they could understand how it feels
A
To hurt every time you try to breathe

      Dbm           B
And I don?t know why
        A
I keep holding up
B
I keep holding on
Dbm
And I
          B                 A
Fight so hard to keep everything alive
Everything inside me carrying on

(  Dbm   B   A  )

      Dbm                               B
I wish they could tell me pleasing things, for once
            A
But all I hear is judgement, oh please
      Dbm                      B
I wish I could smile everyday, for real
          A
Instead of this I cry for anything

      Dbm             B
```

```
And I don?t know why
          A
I keep holding up
B
I keep holding on Dbm
And I
          B                 A
Fight so hard to keep everything alive
Everything inside me

        Dbm
It eats me alive, from inside out
            B                                          A
And kills every chance that I have to find myself
                          Abm
I hate these things I felt
          Dbm
And when I?m alone, it?s worse than before
          B                         A
Because I don?t have any control at all
                            B
Of all these things I felt

        Dbm           B
And I don?t know why
            A
I keep holding up
B
I keep holding on Dbm
And I
          B                 A
Fight so hard to keep everything alive
                        B
Everything inside me
              Dbm
Carrying on
