

Coldplay - Something Just Like This

But I'm not the kind of person that it fits
Intro: G A Bm A G A Bm
                                                               [Pre-Chorus]
[Verse 1]
                                                               She said, where'd you wanna go?
I've been reading books of old
                                                               How much you wanna risk?
The legends and the myths
                                                               I'm not looking for somebody
Achilles and his gold
A Bm
Hercules and his gifts
D G
                                                               With some superhuman gifts
                                                                 D G
                                                               Some superhero A Bm
Spiderman's control
                                                               Some fairytale bliss
And Batman with his fists
                                                                 D
                                                               Just something I can turn to
And clearly I don't see myself upon that list
                                                               Somebody I can miss
[Pre-Chorus]
                                                               [Chorus]
She said, where'd you wanna go?
                                                                                     G A Bm D G A
                                                               I want something just like this
How much you wanna risk?
                                                               I want something just like this
I'm not looking for somebody
                                                               [Bridge]
