

Intro: (repeat x2)

During the verses there really isn't any guitar parts, there is some guitar stuff in the background but i dunno if thats really set in stone or if he's just screwing around with scales and so forth.

Chorus (rhythmn part)

Chorus (lead part) these are chords that Dan Vickery, (the lead guitarist), picks the individual notes of

Guitar solo

after that whole thing there is a verse and then everything drops out except for the guitars and they just play the chorus parts over again then they go into another chorus and then song ends after Adam says "way way way way too long." about 6 or 7 times or something like that and it finishes with piano and clapping and etc. but thats it thats the whole song at least i think so anyway.

whole song at least i think so anyway.

Acordes

E

© ukulele-chords.com