   If I Could Give All My Love

Richard Manuel is Dead

Standard Tuning

Intro: riff:

Verse 1:
Bm   D
  Got a message in my head
                          A
that the papers had all come
                     Bm
Richard Manuel is dead
                           D
and the daylight's comin' on
                                  A
I've been wandering through the dark
                           Bm   (B) (Db) D
now I'm standing on the lawn

Chorus:
                A   Bm   D
If I could give all my love to you
                 A
I could justify myself
        G   D
but I'm just not coming through
                          A
You're a pill to ease the pain
             G   D
of all the stupid things I do
             (Db)   Bm
I'm an anchor on the line
                          G
of a clock that tells the time
                      A   G   D (play first 1/2 of intro riff over A
G D)

that is running out on you

Verse 2:
Bm   D
  It was cold when I awoke
                          A
and the day was halfway done
                          Bm
Nearly spring in San Francisco
                          D
and I cannot feel the sun
                          A
You were sleeping next to me
                          Bm   (B) (Db) D
but I knew that you'd be gone

Repeat Chorus

Lead-in to solo:

Solo chords: (key of A, I think)
Bm D A E
Bm D A G D

Verse 3:
Bm   D
  Take some time before you go
                          A
To think of Mondays coming down
                          E
and the people that you knew
                          Bm
and the ones that aren't around
                          D
You've been fading day to day
                          Bm   D
I've been moving town to town

Repeat Chorus twice
(skip the intro riff between these repeats)
End with a variation on Riff 1 (it's a really easy variation)

Tabbed by Neil on Thursday 11 July 2002.
