Intro: Fm Db Ab Eb Tom:

Fm Db Ab
So this is the end of the movie
Eb Fm
Whoa, whoa, whoa
Db Ab
But real life isn't a movie
Eb Db
No, no, no

Ab
You want things to be wrapped up neatly
Eb Fm
The way that stories do
Db Ab
You're looking for answers
Eb
But answers aren't looking for you

Fm Db Ab
Because life is a gradual series of revelations
Eb Fm
That occur over a period of time
Db Ab
It's not some carefully crafted story
Eb Db
It's a mess, and we're all gonna die

Ab Eb
If you saw a movie that was like real life
Fm Db
You'd be like, "What the hell was that movie about?"
Ab Eb
It was really all over the place."
Fm
Life doesn't make narrative sense
Db Ab Fm Db Ab Fm
Nuh-uh

(Fm Db Ab Eb Fm)

Fm Db Ab
We tell ourselves that we're in a movie
Eb Fm
Whoa, whoa, whoa
Db Ab
Each one of us thinks we've got the starring role
Eb Db
Role, role, role

Ab Eb
But the truth is, sometimes you're the lead
Fm
And sometimes you're an extra
Db Ab
Just walking by in the background
Eb
Like me, Josh Groban!

Fm Db Ab
Eb Fm
That occur over a period of time
Db Ab
Some things might happen that seem connected
Eb Db
But there's not always a reason or rhyme

Ab Eb
People aren't characters. They're complicated
Fm Db
And their choices don't always make sense
Ab Eb
That being said, it's really messed-up
Fm Db
That you banged your ex-boyfriend's dad
Ab Eb Fm
Oh, never bang your ex-boyfriend's dad
