

Crowder - Crushing Snakes (feat. TAYA)

```
Crushing sna_kes
                            tom:
                                                                Safe under the shadow of His wings
Intro: E Em
                                                                            G
                                                                Our fortress and our strength
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                Our fortress
          Em Cm
                                                                [Refrão]
We're not afr__aid
Terrors of night, arrows
                                                                  We're taking back our freedom
                                                                       Am7 Bm
       Em C
That fly by day aay
                                                                  Our battle has been won
Ten thousand may fall but we
                                                                  We have been liberated
      Em
We will remain
                                                                 Back from the dead we've come
( \operatorname{Em} Am \operatorname{Em} \operatorname{Bm} ) ( \operatorname{Em} Am \operatorname{Em} )
                                                                (Em Am Em Bm)
                                                                (Em Am Em)
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                [Ponte]
    G Em C
We're not afr_aid
                                                                 Do you see Him, King of Heaven
A promise of God can never
                                                                 Champion of all creation?
     Em C
Be torn away aay
                                                                  Eyes of fire, voice of thunder
Walking on hands of angels
                                                                  Tearing through the sky in wonder
     Fm C
Crushing sna_kes
                  D
                                                                 Dressed in light, we see Him coming
Safe under the shadow of His wings
  D C7
                                                                On a horse that's white like lightning
Our fortress and our strength
                                                               Do you see Him?
Our fortress
                                                                 Do you see Him, King of Heaven
[Refrão]
                                                                 Champion of all creation?
  We're taking back our freedom
                                                                 Eyes of fire, voice of thunder
            Am7
  Our battle has been won
                                                                 Tearing through the sky in wonder
  We have been liberated
                                                                 Dressed in light, we see Him coming
              D
 Back from the dead we've come
                                                                 On a horse that's white like lightning
                       Am
  We're taking back our freedom
                                                               Do you see Him?
             Am7
  Our battle has been won
                                                                [Refrão Final]
  We have been liberated
                                                                  We're taking back our freedom
              D
 Back from the dead we've come
                                                                             Am7
                                                                  Our battle has been won
(Em Am Em Bm)
(Em Am Em)
                                                                  We have been liberated
                                                                               D
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                 Back from the dead we've come
                                                                  We're taking back our freedom
We're not afraid
                                                                             Am7
                                                                  Our battle has been won
A promise of God can never
      Em E
                                                                  We have been liberated
Be torn away aay
                                                                 Back from the dead we've come
Walking on hands of angels
```

Acordes

