Intro: C Am Em G
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                 It's gettin' harder to stay
                                                                 [Refrão]
Walk away before my heart starts to break
Hurry up and rip the Band-Aid, fuck me up, kill me now
                                                                 You're so closed off
                                Am
One of us is gettin' sunlight, one of us is gettin' shade
                                                                 Only love me with my clothes off
Eyelids get heavier, I predict rain
                                                                 Every reply is a roadblock
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                 Is this the part where we both admit it's
                                                                 Oh-oh-oh, over?
The ground beneath me fractured, now I'm shattered from the Can't we admit that it's
                                                                      Am Em
                                                                 Oh-oh-oh, over?
It's gettin' harder to stay
[Refrão]
                                                                 [Ponte]
You're so closed off
                                                                 Can we go back to the days
Only love me with my clothes off
                                                                 Before heartbreak became our escape
                                                                 We were kids in the playground
Every reply is a roadblock
Is this the part where we both admit it's
                                                                 But now all our days are made up from mistakes
    Am Em
Oh-oh-oh, over?
                                                                 And our words are like madness
Is this the part where it's So can't we admit that it's
   Am Em G
Oh-oh-oh, over?
                                                                      Am Em
                                                                 Oh-oh-oh, over?
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                 Can't we admit that it's
                                                                      Am Em
                                                                 Oh-oh-oh, over?
I've been writin' little notes to myself
Playing out scenarios, but none of them help
                                                                 [Final] C Am Em G C Am Em G
I heard our favourite song playin' on the radio
We sang it so well, but it sounded like hell
