

Danny L Harle - Me4U (feat. Morrie)

Because your love has a magic tom:
                                                               And no one makes me feel so good (always)
               Gbm
Intro: Gbm E
              Α
    For you, y-y-you, you, you
                                                               [Refrão]
For you, y-y-you, you, you
                                                                            Gbm
                                                               For me, for you, y-y-you, you, you
For you, y-y-you, you, you
                                                               You're the only one that I belong to
For me, for
                                                                             Dbm
                                                               Every part of me is a part of you
[Primeira Parte]
                                                               Everything I do, d-d-do, do, do
    Took a long time to find you
                                                               For me, for you, y-y-you, you, you
            Е
                 Α
And I won't let you get away (always)
                                                               You're the only one that I belong to
    You're the sunrise in the darkness
                                                               Every part of me is a part of you
                Α
Boy you take my breath away (always)
                                                               Everything I do, d-d-do, do, do
[Refrão]
                                                               [Ponte]
            Gbm
For me, for you, y-y-you, you, you
                                                                   Е
                                                                           Gbm
                                                               For me, for you, y-y-you, you, you
You're the only one that I belong to
                                                               You're the only one that I belong to
Every part of me is a part of you
                                                                             Dbm
                                                               Every part of me is a part of you
Everything I do, d-d-do, do, do
                                                               Everything I do, d-d-do, do, do
            Gbm
For me, for you, y-y-you, you, you
                                                               For me, for?
                                                               [Solo] Gbm E A B
You're the only one that I belong to
                                                                    Dbm E A
Every part of me is a part of you
                                                               [Refrão Final]
Everything I do, d-d-do, do, do

For you y-y-you, you, you
                                                               Everything I do, d-d-do, do, do
For you y-y-you, you, you
                                                                   F
                                                                           Gbm
For me, for
                                                               For me, for you, y-y-you, you, you
                                                               You're the only one that I belong to [Segunda Parte]
                                                                             Dbm
