

Daryl Hall & John Oates - A Promise Ain't Enough

tom:

Intro: E A E A
A D A

Don't wanna open your heart?

You're afraid from the start

That a new love's gonna let you down

There is something you should know

Before you give up and go

I don't believe in the run around

I just want to define myself

And show you how I feel

If a promise ain't enough

Then a touch says everything

Got to hold you in my arms

Till you feel what I mean

Know that my heart just tells me what to say

But words can only prove so much

If a promise ain't enough, oh, oh

Hold onto my love, humm

Though my words can't describe

How I'm feeling all inside

Does my touch say anything to you

I'm not afraid to take time

'Cause I know you'll find

A D A D

That I'm real and my touch is true

It's taken a lifetime to find my heart

And I give it all to you

If a promise ain't enough

Then a touch says everything

Got to hold you in my arms

Till you feel what I mean

(A E A)

Know that my heart just tells me what to say

But words can only prove so much

If a promise ain't enough, oh, oh

Hold onto my love, yeah

(A A D A D)

It took a lifetime to find what I want

I won't let it get away

If a promise ain't enough

Then a touch says everything

Got to hold you in my arms

Till you feel what I mean

Know that my heart just tells me what to say

But words can only prove so much

If a promise ain't enough, oh, hold on

[Final] E A E
