

Death Cab For Cutie - Blacking Out The Friction

Tom: G

heavy distortion

- "Blacking out the Friction"

-- Tabbed by Williston Dye

Intro: (its easy to finger pick at first then create your own variations)

"the hardest part is yet to.... come..."

(and also "you will cross the country . . . ALONE")

play over keyboard part (improvise here)

End with variations of the intro.

this is mostly the keyboard part. . .
light distortion sounds good here

This song is not difficult once you listen to it to figure out the timing. Play it along with it.

Also listen to the John Byrd EP for some sweet variations especially on the intro/outro.
can figure them out it's a fun song.

VERSE:

"I don't mind the weather...."

Let me know what you think. This is the first tab I ever made.
