

Depeche Mode - Corrupt

Tom: F

(verse 1)

Em I could corrupt you
C D in a heart beat Em you think your so special C D think your so sweet Em what are you trying C D don't even tempt me
Em soon you'll be crying
C D unwishing you dreamt of me

(chorus)

C Am D F Em
 you'll be calling out my name
C Am D F Em
 when you need someone to blame

(the rest of the song uses the same chords, in all parts)

(verse 2)

i could corrupt you it would be easy watching you suffer
 god, it would please me

i wanna touch you
 with my little finger i know it will crush you my memory would linger

(chorus)

you'd be crying out in pain

begging me to play my games

(verse 3)

i could corrupt you it will be ugly they could sedate you but what good could drugs be

i wanna touch you
 with my hands on your hips it would be too much to place my lips on your lips

(chorus)

you'll be calling out my name
 begging me to play my games

(and for the outro, just use the verse chords)

(afinação D)

(verse)

(synth bass riff)

(this is played during the verse by the synth bass)

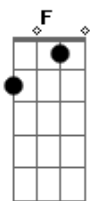

(chorus)

(as for the chord names, I just used a chord name finder so don't hold me to them. The two measures are quarter notes, while the second two measures are triplet eighths)

You'd be Calling Out My Name (alternate verse)

(this is played during the verse after the second chorus. It's also played by the guitar the outro)

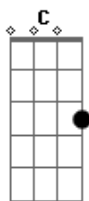

Acordes

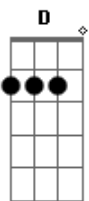

© ukulele-chords.com

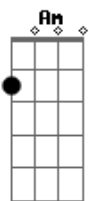

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com