

Disney - Once Upon A Time In New York City (Oliver And Company)

Tom: D

Now it's ^Aalways ^Donce upon a time
 In New York City
 It's a ^Gbig old, ^{Bm}bad old, ^Dtough old town, it's ^{Bm}true
 But ^{Bm}beginnings are contagious there
 They're ^Galways setting stages there
 They're ^Aalways turning pages there for you

Verso 2:

Ain't it ^Agreat the way it all begins
 in New York City?
 Right ^Gaway you're making time and making ^Dfriends
 No one ^{Bm}cares where you were yesterday
 If they ^{Bm}pick you out you're on your way
 To a ^Gonce upon a time that never ends ^A

Refrão 1:

^ASo, ^DOliver, don't be shy
 Get out there, ^Glet go and try
 Believing that you're the ^Dguy
 They're ^Gdying to see
^G'Cause a dream's no crime
^DNot once upon a time
^A(^G) (^A) ^D

Once upon a time in New York City

Verso 3:

^AIf it's ^Dalways ^Gonce upon a time
 In New York City
 Why does ^{Bm}nightfall find you feeling so alone? ^D
 How could ^{Bm}anyone stay starry eyed
 When it's ^Graining cats and dogs outside
 And the rain is saying, "Now you're on your own"? ^A

Refrão 2:

^ASo, ^DOliver, don't be scared
 Though yesterday ^Gno one cared
 They're ^Dgetting your place prepared
 Where you want to be ^G
^GKeep your dream alive
^DDreaming is still how the strong survive
^A(^G) (^A) ^D
 Once upon a time in New York City
^GKeep your dream alive
^DDreaming is still how the strong survive
^A(^G) (^A) ^D
 Once upon a time in New York City
^AAnd it's ^Dalways once upon a time
 In New York City
