

Ed Sheeran - U.N.I

Tom: E
                                                                Now I'm in the position to be another stalker
   Verso 1:
                                                                That everything I say always seems to sound awkward
I found your headband on my bedroom floor
                                                                Like our last kiss it was perfect
The only evidence that you'd been there before
                                                                We were nervous, on the surface
And I don't get waves of missing you any more
                                                                And I'm always saying everyday that it was worth it
They're more like tsunami tides in my eyes
                                                                Pain is only relevant if it still hurts
Never get things right, so i get high
                                                                I forget like an elephant or we can use a sedative Smoke with the days, never sleep with the light on
                                                                And go back to that day we fell in love
Weeks pass in a blink of an eye and I'm still drunk at the end Just on our first kiss of the night
Dbm
                                                                Pré-Refrão:
I don't drink like everybody else
                                                                So am I close to you anymore, if it's over
End up to forget things about myself
                                                                Gbm
                                                               And there's no chance that we'll work it out
Stumble and fall, in a head spin i got Refrão:
My mind is with you but my heart just not
                                                                That's why you and I, ended over U.N.I
Pré-Refrão:
                                                                And I said that's fine, but you're the only one that knows i
So am I close to you anymore if it's over
                                                                lied
                                                                You and I, ended over U.N.I
And there's no chance that we'll work it out
                                                                      Dh
Refrão:
                                                                And I said that's fine, but you're the only one that knows i
                                                                lied
That's why you and I, ended over U.N.I
                                                                Ponte:
     Dbm
And I said that's fine, but you're the only one that knows I F
                                                                Because if, I was gonna go somewhere
You and U, ended over U.N.I
                                                                I'd be there by now
     Dbm
                                                                Dh
And I said that's fine, but you're the only one that knows i
                                                                And maybe I can let myself down
lied
                                                                Db
                                                                ohh,i thinkin that I'm unaware Verso 2:
                                                                                                        Dh
Everybody said that we'd be together forever but I know that I I keep my feet on the ground, and keep looking around to make sure I'm not the only one to feel low never wanna settle down, come around
                                                                          Db A
Break up the love like lego land
                                                                Db
                                                                Because if you want... i'll take you in my arms and keep you Never wanna turn into another like you sheltered
Sleep with my thoughts, and starts with my views
                                                                From all that I've done wrong
                                                                           Db
Everything's great but everything's short
                                                                And I know you'll say... That I'm the only one but I know that Like you live in your hall and I live in my tour bus
                                                                God made another one of me to love you better than I ever will
