Intro: A Gbm E D
                                                                  Twelve years down the line
[Dedilhado Padrão]
                                                                  There's just one thing I remember
                                                               Her lips upon mine
[Primeira Parte]
                                                               So soft, feelings I don't know the name of Gbm
  Star sign, Gemini
                                                               Under the clothes we
                                                                                          take off
  Brown eyes, fair hair in the light
                                                               Used to be two hearts
                 Gbm
  We called time last night
                                                               [Pré-Refrão]
  And I can't stop thinking about her
                                                                        Oh, why, oh, why am I alone?
And her lips upon mine
                                                                 Did I, did I do something wrong?
So soft, feelings I don't know the name of
                                                                       Am I the reason, or have you found someone else?
                   Gbm
Under the clothes we take off
                                                               So tell me, girl
Used to be two hearts
                        in love
                                                               [Refrão]
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                        How can I live without love?
        Oh, why, oh, why am I alone?
                                                               How can I be what you want?
 Did I, did I do something wrong?
                                                               'Cause when the morning comes around
        Am I the reason, or have you found someone else?
                                                               You're still gone and I'll say
So tell me, girl
                                                                        How can I see through the dark?
                                                                             Е
                                                               All I can do is wonder where you are
