

Elect Worship - Redemption

```
Bowed before you on my knees
                                                                                                                         tom:
 Intro: Bm G D A
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              From grace I sing
 Oh how to face
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              That I am His
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              Bm
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              You are Lord
 Such a cross
 Where my debt
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              You are Lord
 You paid it all
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             My past and shame
 They struck your face
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              Is washed away
And stripped your robe \overline{\mathbf{D}}
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             I am yours
 All that sacrifice so
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              I am yours
 You could save my soul
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             I jump and shout % \left\{ 1,2,\ldots ,n\right\} =\left\{ 1,2,\ldots ,n\right\} =
                                             Em
 And when I fall
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              There's freedom now
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             By your blood
 There is redemption
 I'm reliant on your grace
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             By your blood
 Undeservant of your mercy
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              With joy and praise
 But your love remains the same
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             Em
We lift His name
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   D
 I could never make it up
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              Jesus
                                                                 G
 With how good you've been to me
                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              Your only son
 So I'll stay here in this moment
```

Acordes

