

Ella Langley - Girl You're Taking Home

tom:

Intro: Gbm A D D

[Primeira Parte]

I got the whiskey
 She gets the good-year bottle of wine
 I got the neon
 She gets the back-porch strung-up lights
 I got the white lies, she gets the truth
 She gets the version I wanted of you

[Refrão]

If I was good enough to be your last call
 Why is she the one you call your mama about?
 After seein' all the B.S. I saw
 Why is she the one who sees your best side now?
 If I'm first thing on your mind
 The second she lets go
 Then why ain't I the girl you're taking home?

[Segunda Parte]

I saw the pictures
 And she gets to cross that county line
 I bet she's riding shotgun
 In your dad's old '85
 Bet she met your grandma, you took her to church
 She gets the cleaned-up and I got the dirt

And it hurts 'cause

[Refrão]

If I was good enough to be your last call
 Why is she the one you call your mama about?
 After seein' all the B.S. I saw
 Why is she the one who sees your best side now?
 If I'm first thing on your mind
 The second she lets go
 Then why ain't I the girl you're taking home?

[Solo] Gbm A D D

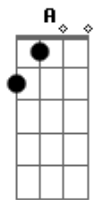

[Ponte]

Yeah, take her home
 Where you grew up
 Baby, why ain't I the one you love?

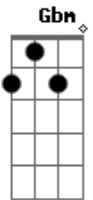

[Refrão]

If I was good enough to be your last call
 Why is she the one you call your mama about?
 After seein' all the B.S. I saw
 Why is she the one who sees your best side now?
 If I'm first thing on your mind
 The second she lets go
 Then why ain't I the girl you're taking home?
 Then why ain't I the girl you're taking home?
 Then why ain't I the girl you're taking home?

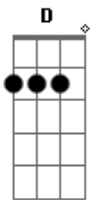

Acordes

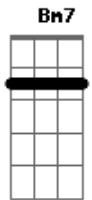

© ukulele-chords.com

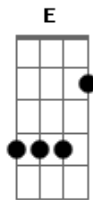

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com

© ukulele-chords.com