Intro:
[Primeira Parte]
                                                            Hey kids, plug into the faithless
                                                            Maybe they're blinded but Bennie makes them ageless
Hey kids, shake it loose together
                                                                       D7
                                                               We shall survive, let us take ourselves along
The spotlight's hitting something that's been
                                                            Where we fight our parents out in the streets
Known to change the weather
                                                            To find who's right and who's wrong
  We'll kill the fatted calf tonight so stick around
                                                            [Refrão]
