Intro: E Gbm B7 E Gbm B7
                                    Gbm B7 Gbm B7
I left my home up in the hills, far behind me
                  B7
                        Gbm B7
I left my wife with unpaid bills, she can't find me
I'm trying out the world for size, find that it's not paradise, it's lonely, who-oo
Now for twenty days and twenty nights, I've been alone
       B7
                  Gbm B7 E
                                     Gbm B7
And that ain't right,
                        without her
City ways are strange to me and I can't take it
                   B7 Gbm B7
For it's not like it ought to be,
                                   I can't make it
Gotta face the truth one day, a man can't always run away, from trouble no-oo
       Ε

Now for twenty days and twenty nights, I've been a fool
             Gbm B7 E Gm C7
        B7
And that ain't right,
                        without her
                                          Gm
                                              C7 Gm C7
One day soon I'm going back, where she still minds me
                      C7
                            Gm C7
And then out of line and off the track, but that's behind me
Bh
I fooled around and did it well, I just couldn't ring the bell
, without her, who-oo
It's taken twenty days and twenty nights, to prove me wrong and make her right
Gm C7
         F
               Gm C7
Twenty days and twenty nights, I was wrong and she was right, all along
                                    Gm C7
And I miss her,
                  Oh how I miss her,
                                        oh how I miss her
                                      Gm C7 F
                Gm C7
Oh How I miss her,
                      oh how I miss her...
