

Emblem3 - Teenage Kings

```
Tom: C
                                                               by, I swat thighs. Let the good times roll and let the top fly.
   C Dm
         C
                                                                                            Dm
I take a puff on my cigarette, then I say what up like,
"Hello." Party hard,
                                                               And when we are all looking back (one day when we're lookin
      G
                                                               back), we'll pedal to the metal. A part of growing up is living like a think of this night so let's make it last.
rebel. No stoppin
                                                                                     G
                                                                                            Dm
                                                               Cause we're teenage kings pretending we're famous. And we the girls from teeny-boppin. No tops, she's rockin bikini won't leave til
bottoms. Backyard
                                                                Dm
                                                               someone gets shameless. It's a five day fight til the saturday boxin, half pipe droppin, the jocks and the nerds man
                                                               night when
everybody's rockin.
                                                               the guys get high and the girls get loose. Teenage kings
And when we are all looking back (one day when we're lookin
back), we'll
                                                               we're famous, yeah.
think of this night so let's make it last.
                                                                  G
                                                                          Dm
             C
                     G
                                                               Leela and Joe sit with Jack McColl. Jay's actin dumb runnin Cause we're teenage kings pretending we're famous. And we into walls.
won't leave til
                                                                                 Dm
                                                               Someone's passed out with the candle. We're rollin, we're someone gets shameless. It's a five day fight til the saturday
                                                               rollin, like
night when
                                                                 Dm
                                                               teenage kings.
                                                                                            Dm F C
                                                                     G
                                                               And when we are all looking back, we'll think of this night so the guys get high and the girls get loose. Teenage kings pretending we're
                                                               let's make it
                                                                Dm
famous, yeah.
                                                               last.
                                                                                     G
                                                                                            Dm
I take a sip off another Red Bull, everybody on the move Cause we're teenage kings pretending we're famous. And we lookin for someone
                                                               won't leave til
                                                                 Dm
to XO. Everything is good, and everything is cool, except for someone gets shameless. It's a five day fight til the saturday
the fool who night when the
 F
                                                                Dm
fell into the pool. What up ladies, I'm glad that you could guys get high and the girls get loose. Teenage kings stop by. Freshman pretending we're famous, trippin out because he got high. And daisy dukes when you walk yeah
```

Acordes

