

Emezie - Moron

```
Where is she now?
                           tom:
               Dbm (forma dos acordes no tom de Cm )
                                                              [Segunda Parte]
Capostraste na 1º casa
            [Primeira Parte]
                                                              Love or hate? (waste of time, but I?ve done no crime)
     Bb Am
              Ab
Please help me
                                                              Try or wait? (oh what a fool, what a fool)
C Bb Am Ab Bb I can't breathe anymore
                Ab Bb
                                                              Take the bait? (I did it all for the love)
  C Bb Am Ab Bb
The perfect ?he?
                                                              Fool with fate?
          Bb
The quest to be
                                                              No regrets (waste of time, but I?ve done no crime)
    Am
It's killing me, it's killing me
                                                              I tried my best (oh what a fool, what a fool)
                                                                                               Bb
                                                                                        Ab
                                                              So don't forget my love (I did it all for the love)
Love or hate?
Bb
Try or wait?
Am
                                                              Oh oh oh oh
Take the bait?
Fool with fate?
                                                              0hhh
                                                              Oh oh oh oh
I took the test
                                                                       Bh
                                                              Oh oh oh oh
I tried my best
                                                              0hhh
But where?d it get me?
[Refrão]
                                                              Love or hate? (waste of time, but I?ve done no crime)
                                                              Try or wait? (oh what a fool, what a fool)
     Bb Am Ab
Please help me
                                                              Take the bait? (I did it all for the love)
C Bb Am
I can't see it anymore
  C Bb
                  Am Ab
                                                              Fool with fate?
The you who used to be
  C Bb
                                                                                                Bb
                                                              No regrets (waste of time, but I?ve done no crime)
So free by me
                                                              I tried my best (oh what a fool, what a fool)
Where is she?
         Bb C
                                                                                              Bb
Ab
                                                                                        Ab
                                                              So don't forget my love (I did it all for the love)
```

Acordes

