                                                               Oh I know about Molly
 (com acordes na forma de G )
                                                                            Fm
                                                               She likes to sing and get high
Capostraste na 3ª casa
Intro: G Em G Em
                                                               She likes to kiss my boyfriend
                                                                            Em
Oh I know about Molly 'cause she told my friend
                                                               When he comes walking by
                                                                    Rm
That she was hooking up with you on the weekend
                                                               Oh I know about Molly
                                                                          Em
Guess those stories that you told me turned out not to be true So just confess it out loud
You say you're done with Molly, well I am done
                                                               You're so guilt-stricken crying on the corner, do you feel
With you, ooh ooh, ooh ooh, ooh ooh better now?
    Bm
Oh I know about Molly
                                                               Oh Molly you can have him you're much cooler than me
                                                               I never liked staying up smoking weed 'til three
She likes to sing and get high
             Bm
                                                               So take my boots in his closet like you took my man
She likes to kiss my boyfriend
             Em
When he comes walking by
                                                               It's clear you don't mind wearing things second hand
    Bm
Oh I know about Molly
                                                               And I'm not looking for a winner or a loser or a forfeit
          Em
So just confess it out loud
                                                               But my heart's in little pieces so I hope that it was worth it
                                                               Hope you're happy together, 'cause I'm doing alright
You're so guilt-stricken crying on the corner, do you feel
                                                               But you both should stay away from the lower east side hetter now?
Well you were working with Molly when you said she's just a 'Cause I know about Molly
                                                               She likes to sing and get high
Never thought you were the type to fuck an understudy
                                                               She likes to kiss my boyfriend
Molly's so naive she don't know wrong from right
                                                                           Em
                                                               When he comes walking by
But when your girlfriend's out of town she's at your place all
                                                                    Bm
                                                               Oh I know about Molly
                                                                          Em
Oh oh oh, NYU, La Guardia, she's so Broadway bound
                                                               So just confess it out loud
                                                                                                      Fm
But she keeps taking shitty gigs that I turned down
                                                               You're so guilt-stricken crying on the corner, do you feel
I hope you love her face, I hope you dig her voice better now?
              Em
                                                               Em
You say you're done with Molly well I have made
                                                               Do you feel better now?
