

The Everly Brothers - Little Hollywood Girl

```
You wish that you could go home again, you no longer care for tom:
                                                                fame
Intro: C [Refrão]
                          Am
                          little Hollywood girl)
 (little Hollywood girl,
[Primeira Parte]
                                                                Little Hollywood girl (little Hollywood girl)
                                                                Better call it a day (little Hollywood girl)
Each day you think a producer will give you your start
                                                                Little Hollywood girl
             \mathsf{Am}
                               C
But when you go to audition you never get the part [Ponte]
                                                                 Put your make up away
You're only one of a million girls in a town without a heart
                                                                I know it's so hard to quit
[Refrão]
                                                                You hate to admit you made a mista-a-ake
Little Hollywood girl (little Hollywood girl)
                                                                You lived with only one dream
Better call it a day (little Hollywood girl)
                                                                To be on the screen
                                                                    Eb7
                                                                                 Ebm
Little Hollywood girl
                                                                And waking up is hard to take [Refrão]
Put your make up away
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                Little Hollywood girl
The Marquee lights you are dazzled by don't shine your name
             Am
                                                                Little Hollywood girl
You know your chances are slimmer now and you're sorry you came
                                                                 Better come home to me
[Ponte]
                                                                 (little Hollywood girl,
                                                                                            little Hollywood girl)
               Dm
                                                              G (little Hollywood girl,
                                                                                            little Hollywood girl)
```

Acordes

