

Filanos - The One Who Takes You Home

Tom: E

Intro: A Dbm B

I just woke up from another dream
Where everything seemed so unclean
I thought I had you but now I know
That in the end, you let me go

I couldn't wait
I wouldn't rely on fate
You needed space
And I you as my date

And all that lies beneath has got to keep its place, yeah
And what is ahead is there for us to trace

I've got to be the one who takes you home
We've got to see the things that make us whole
Don't you want to dream? Don't you want to feel
The possibility of it getting real?

We ought to believe
That all's there just for us
( Dbm B )

The other day, I was afraid
'Cause you didn't stay and I stayed awake
All these thoughts going up my head
They started messing with the feelings that I had

And all that lies beneath has got to keep its place, yeah

And what is ahead is there for us to trace

I've got to be the one who takes you home
We've got to see the things that make us whole
Don't you want to dream? Don't you want to feel
The possibility of it getting real?
We ought to believe
That all's there just for us

I woke up like this, I woke up like this
I thought I'd never be the same without your kiss

I can't live like this, I can't live like this
I need to get out of this mistake
Should I hesitate? Should I hesitate?
Why fall in love with someone who never cares?
Oh yeah, oh yeah yeah yeah yeah yeah

I've got to be the one who takes you home
We've got to see the things that make us whole
Don't you want to dream? Don't you want to feel
The possibility of it getting real?

We ought to believe
That all's there just for us
