

Five Finger Death Punch - Digging My Own Grave

Tom: Bb

I've been walking over graves
 Carving out the headstone that I own, my own
 I'm like a monster in a cage
 Trapped inside a maze
 I Am home, I'm home
 I'm here and gone, I'm dead and done
 I know there's nothing I can change
 And I regret the things I didn't say
 I resent how I walked away
 Now I'm digging my own grave
 Now I'm digging my own, digging my own grave
 Is there peace beyond the rage?
 Tell me where this truly all went wrong, went wrong

I've been walking through the graves
 Dancing with the lonely and the strong, the strong
 I'm here and gone, I'm dead and done
 I know there's nothing I can change
 And I regret the things I didn't say
 I resent how I walked away
 Now I'm digging my own grave
 Now I'm digging my own, digging my own grave
 Digging my, digging my own grave
 I know there's nothing I can change
 And I regret the things I didn't say
 I resent how I walked away
 Now I'm digging my own grave
 Now I'm digging my own, digging my own grave
 Is there peace beyond rage?
 'Cause I've been digging my own, digging my own grave
