

Flogging Molly - To Youth

Tom: G

^C
Tell me why must a man be of ^Gservice
^C
To his lord and the god seldom high
^C
From the grave spring the name of our ^Gfathers
^C
But there's no glint in a dead man's ^Deye
^C
Tell me why are our fields filled with ^Ghunger
^C
And fruitless the crop bitter ^Gsoil
^C
So I say my farewell to a nation
^C
As the leaf waves goodbye to it's ^Dso

^C
So it's to youth I sing you this ^Gstory
^C
And it's of youth I sing it now
^C
Like the train that derails without ^Gwarning
^C
I must leave what I left far ^Dbehind
^C
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh
^G
I say goodbye (C D G)3x

^C
Tell me why must our peace be this ^Gpuzzle
^C
That fractures the land, splinters ^Gwar
^C
The last nails cite the shame in our ^Dcoffin
^C
But in the end we must all die ^Dalone

^C
So it's to youth I sing you this ^Gstory
^C
And it's of youth I sing it now
^C
Like the train that derails without ^Gwarning
^C
I must leave what I left far ^Dbehind
^C
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh
^G
I say goodbye (C D G)3x
^D
And the bark fell from tree
^C
To the ground that they'll ^Gbleed

^D
On the anguish that never learned to ^Gshout
^D
With the clash of the drum
^C
We'll surrender the gun
^D
and on this sadness we shall no longer ^Gspeak
^C
Until time can live on our all ^Gforgotten songs
^C
That's when I and we will sing ^Dagain
^G
So goodbye to my love, my sweet ^DRoisin Dubh
^G
Goodbye now until we meet ^Gagain (C D G)3x
^C
Tell me why must our grief still be ^Ggrieving
^C
For a language that never spoke ^Git's loss
^C
But this tongue speak with fire will ^Gtear down the barb wire
^C
And Rip the belly from the waxy ^Dghost
^C
So it's to youth I sing you this ^Gstory
^C
And it's of youth I sing it now
^C
Like the train that derails without ^Gwarning
^C
We must leave what we left far ^Dbehind

^C
So it's to youth I sing you this ^Gstory
^C
And it's of youth I sing it now
^C
Like the train that derails without ^Gwarning
^C
We must leave what we left far ^Dbehind
^C
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh, I say ^Dgoodbye (C D G)
^C
So goodbye, sweet Roisin Dubh, I say ^Dgoodbye (C D G)
^C
Until we meet ^Gagain
^C
Until we meet ^Gagain
^C
Until we meet again, she arrives to ^Gbeautify
^D
But slumber now must ^Grest
^G
Oh my Roisin Dubh
^C
I'll forever ^Clove
^G
The youth you once ^Dpossessed
