

Foreign Air - The Apartment

tom:

[Primeira Parte]

I had my suspicions and you had your own
 A thousand dirty dishes and a broken home
 Back when we started before the apartment, hey now
 I know you won't admit it but you had to know
 I know it's hard to quit it, hard to let it go
 As hard as we've fallen, gonna hit the floor
 Lay down, lay down
 I know, things will get harder
 I know, I've lost my manners
 If so, like it or not I speak from the heart

[Refrão]

Yeah, you see I forgot how to hold your hand
 Forgot how to be your man
 Hope that you understand me when I say
 I needed to be alone, needed some time to grow
 This will be better for us both

You've heard it from your friends a million times
 Mothers to daughters, fathers to sons
 Lay down, lay down
 Won't let it get the best of me
 No, I don't need no sympathy
 I've got to move now, yeah
 Move out, move out
