

Gotthard - The Call

```
That's just the price I've got to pay, yeah
              tom:
              Dbm
Intro: Dbm B A Ab B
                                                         [Refrão]
Dbm B A Ab B
                                                         The higher they fly
Don't call me up
                Ab B
                                                         The harder they fall
     Α
I won't answer this time
                                                         I've been waiting for this moment to come {\sf B}
You've had your chances
                                                         I played all my cards
  Α
And you blew them all, so fine
                                                         The stake was on you
                                                              Gbm
                                                         Now there ain't a single reason to stay
No, I won't regret it
I won't take this load on me
                                                         And wait for your call
                                                                      Gbm
                                                                               A Ab B
I try, try to forget it
                                                         To wait for Your Call....no!
      Α
Yes I'm already on my way!
                                                         The higher they fly
[Refrão]
                                                         The harder they fall
                                                               Ghm
The higher they fly
                                                         I've been waiting for this moment to come
The harder they fall
                                                         I played all my cards
   Gbm
I've been waiting for this moment to come
                                                         The stake was on you
                                                               Gbm
I played all my cards
                                                         Now there ain't a single reason to stay
The stake was on you
                                                         The higher they fly
 Gbm
                                                                Gbm A
Now there ain't a single reason to stay
                                                         The harder they fall
And wait for your call
                                                             В
                                                         I've been waiting...yeaah!
( Dbm B A Ab A B )
                                                              Gbm
                                                         For you to take over!
          Dbm
You know I'm done, I give up
                                                         And I spent a life just waiting
                                                           Dbm
  Α
I'm afraid that I could loose again
                                                         For someone to call
But hey, it's not an illusion
Acordes
   Dbn
                                  ukulele-chords.com
```