

Gracie Abrams - Free Now

tom:

[Primeira Parte]

This isn't what you want, it's only how you feel
 You openly admit you're far away from healing
 And I hate to pull the plug, but I think I get your deal
 I finally know better than to wait for you back here

[Refrão]

And I hope you know I don't think
 You're a bad guy, that you're damaged
 Took you two months, only two to raise the bar
 You're the saddest, but a good kid
 Almost loved you, but I didn't
 I could laugh now, how we tried to play those parts

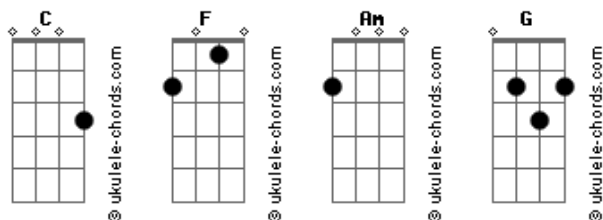

[Segunda Parte]

I know that you're removed, I can feel it when we talk
 You start to let me in, but then you shut it off
 And it's half of you that hurts sometimes
 The half that I don't get
 I swear that I'm not mad at you
 But I can't share your bed now

[Refrão]

I can imagine, when you go home
 Does she follow like an echo?
 Like your shadow, you can try, but you can't run
 From the truth of what you both made

Acordes

That she blew up on a Tuesday
 How does pain taste when it melts into your tongue?
 (C Am F G)

[Ponte]

It's a pain that I caught you at a bad time
 It's a shame that I memorised your outline
 You were straight up with me, you were so kind
 But I knew what you knew, honey, great minds
 It was harsh, 'cause I lost what I wanted
 I was brave when I kissed you in London
 We're collateral here, man, we got hit
 Hope you find somewhere safe for your baggage
 Every page that I wrote, you were on it
 Feel you deep in my bones, you're the current
 And I showed no restraint, it was something
 I was scared up till you made me love it

[Final]

If you find yourself out, if there is a right time
 Chances are I'll be here, we could share a lifeline
 If you feel like falling, catch me on the way down
 Never been less empty, all I feel is free now
 If you find yourself out, if there is a right time
 Chances are I'll be here, we could share a lifeline
 If you feel like falling, catch me on the way down
 Never been less empty, all I feel is free now