

Gracie Abrams - In Between

tom:

C

I just cant come between 'em

They got their own thing

F

I wish he'd stop pretending

He won't let his phone ring

Am

For more than a couple seconds

Am

Oh I think maybe two

F

Two hearts just falling in and out of love

For something new

I wish that you could see them

Their faces lighten up

F

Their past is cold and empty

They know it's been enough

Of waiting on somebody

Am

Someone who doesn't care

F

But he knows her name

She knows that he'll always be there

He laughs at her eyes

At here smile

F

At the glasses on her face

She loves how he talks late at night when

Am

There's no one else to say

How she's beautiful and funny and smart

F

Like nothing he's ever seen

He's good to her and

She wants it more than everything in-between

She holds the line between them

He says he's new at this

F

There's holy ground beneath them

And sparks fly when they kiss

Am

He hates it when she's crying

He hates when she's away

Even at their worse

They know they'll still be okay

He laughs at her eyes

At here smile

F

At the glasses on her face

She loves how he talks late at night when

Am

There's no one else to say

How she's beautiful and funny and smart

F

Like nothing he's ever seen

He's good to her and

She wants it more than everything in-between

F

Everything in-between

Am

Everything in-between

He laughs at her eyes

At here smile

F

At the glasses on her face

She loves how he talks late at night when

Am

There's no one else to say

How she's beautiful and funny and smart
