

Gracie Abrams - That's So True

Sad, sad boy
                tom:
                Db (forma dos acordes no tom de G )
                                                                Not my business
Capostraste na 6º casa
                                                                But I had to warn ya
        [Primeira Parte]
                                                                 [Refrão]
I could go and read your mind
                                                                Ooh-ooh
Think about your dumb face all the time
                                                                Bet you?re thinking she?s so cool
Living in your glass house
                                                                Kicking back on your couch
I'm outside
                                                                Making eyes from across the room
(Mm)
                                                                Wait I think I?ve been there too
   Looking into big blue eyes
                                                                Ooh-ooh
Did it just to hurt me
                                                                Ooh-ooh
Make me cry
                                                                You got me thinking she?s so cool
Smiling through it all
                                                                But I know what I know
Yeah, that?s my life
                                                                 And you?re just another dude ooh
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                 That?s so true
You?re an idiot
                                                                Ooh-ooh
Now I'm sure
                                                                 [Ponte]
Now I'm positive
I should go and warn her
                                                                Made it out alive
[Refrão]
                                                                But I think I lost it
                                                                Said that I was fine
Ooh-ooh
                                                                Said it from my coffin
Bet you?re thinking she?s so cool
                                                                Remember how I died
Kicking back on your couch
                                                                When you started walking
Making eyes from across the room
                                                                That?s my life
Wait I think I?ve been there too
                                                                That?s my life
Ooh-ooh
                                                                 I?ll put up a fight
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                Taking out my earrings
   What'd she do to get you off?
                                                                Don?t you know the vibe?
Taking down her hair like ?oh my God?
                                                                Don?t you know the feeling?
Taking off your shirt, I did that once
                                                                You should spend the night
Or twice (oh)
                                                                Catch me on your ceiling
No, I know and I?ll fuck off
                                                                That?s your prize
But I think I like her
                                                                That?s your prize, well
She?s so fun
                                                                 [Refrão Final]
Wait, I think I hate her
                                                                 (Mm)
I'm not that evolved
                                                                Bet you're thinking she?s so cool
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                Kicking back on your couch
I'm sorry, she?s missing it
                                                                Making eyes from across the room
