Haley Reinhart - Wasted Tears

Tom: C

    Intro 2x:  Dm   Am

G
 Left all alone
          Em                       G
 I'm not ashamed to say I had a cry

 Been looking back
           Em                     G
 I lost my head but I don't know why
                           E       F
 Turns out that every night all I cried
                 C
 Was wasted tears yeah

G
 I can't erase
            Em                   G
 Can't get back another yesterday
                         Em
 If I knew then what I knew now
                    G
 I would have walked away
                 E                    Am     (Dm )
Am
 It's so hard to breathe when love's buried alive, alive, alive

Dm                    Am
 Boy you really made me look a fool
Dm                           Am
 You stole my heart and left it black and blue
Dm                         C        G
 But I can see now that the clouds are clear
           D
 I've been cryin' wasted, wasted tears
Dm                      Am
 So take your promises get on your way
Dm                    Am
 I'm burning memories up in flames
Dm                          C         G
 'Cause I can see now that the clouds are clear
           D
 I've been cryin' wasted, wasted tears

G
 I swear the Earth
          Em                        G
 The universe was falling from the sky
                     Em              G
 You built me up, to let me down a broken lullaby
                 E                    Am     (Dm )
Am
 I kind of want you to feel what it's like to break, break,

break

Dm                    Am
 Boy you really made me look a fool
Dm                           Am
 You stole my heart and left it black and blue
Dm                         C        G
 But I can see now that the clouds are clear
 I've been cryin' wasted, wasted tears
Dm                      Am
 So take your promises get on your way
Dm                    Am
 I'm burning memories up in flames
Dm                          C         G
 'Cause I can see now that the clouds are clear
 I've been cryin' wasted, wasted tears

           Am
Had me crying
           C
You were lying
           F
Hmmm I was dying
That's not love, that's not love
           Am
Had me crying, crying
           C
You were lying, lying
          F
I was dying, dying
That's not love, that's not love

Dm                    Am
 Boy you really made me look a fool
Dm                           Am
 You stole my heart and left it black and blue
Dm                         C        G
 But I can see now that the clouds are clear
 I've been cryin' wasted, wasted tears
Dm                      Am
 So take your promises get on your way
Dm                    Am
 I'm burning memories up in flames
Dm                          C         G
 'Cause I can see now that the clouds are clear
           D
 I've been cryin' wasted, wasted tears

G                        E          F
 Turns out that every night all I cried
 Was wasted tears
