

Halsey - Roman Holiday

Tom: E

Do you remember the taste of my lips that night
I stole a bit of my mother's perfume
Cause I remember when my father put his fist in the wall
That separated the dining room
And I remember the fear in your eyes
The very first time we snuck into the city pool
Late December with my heart in my chest and the clouds of my breath
Didn't know where we were running to
But don't look back

We'll be looking for sunlight
Or the headlights
Till our wide eyes burn blind
We'll be lacing the same shoes
That we've worn through
To the bottom of the line
And we know that we're headstrong
And our heart's gone
And the timing's never right
But for now let's get away
On a Roman holiday

(Dbm A E B)

Could you imagine the taste of your lips
If we never tried to kiss on the drive to Queens
Cause I imagine the weight of your ribs
If you lied between my hips in the backseat

I imagine the tears in your eyes
The very first night I'll sleep without you
And when it happens I'll be miles away

And a few months late
Didn't know where I was running to
But I won't look back
We'll be looking for sunlight
Or the headlights
Till our wide eyes burn blind
We'll be lacing the same shoes
That we've worn through
To the bottom of the line
And we know that we're headstrong
And our heart's gone
And the timing's never right
But for now let's get away
On a Roman holiday
(Dbm A E B) x2

Feet first, don't fall
We'll be running again
Keep close, stand tall
We'll be looking for sunlight
Or the headlights
Till our wide eyes burn blind
We'll be lacing the same shoes
That we've worn through
To the bottom of the line
And we know that we're headstrong
And our heart's gone
And the timing's never right
But for now let's get away
On a Roman holiday
