                                                               I'm willing to wait for it
  Intro 2x: C Am Em
                                                               I'm willing to wait for it
Theodosia writes me a letter everyday (Wait for it, wait for it)
                   Am
I'm keeping the bed warm while her husband is away
                                                               I am the one thing in life I can control
He's on the British side in Georgia
                                                               I am inimitable, I am an original
He's trying to keep the colonies in line
                                                               I'm not falling behind or running late
But he can keep all of Georgia
                                                               I'm not standing still, I am lying in wait
Theodosia, she's mine
                                                               Hamilton faces an endless uphill climb
Love doesn't discriminate between the sinners and the saints, it takes and it takes and it takes
                                                               He has something to prove, he has nothing to lose
                                                                                    G
                                                               Hamilton's pace is relentless, he wastes no time
And we keep loving anyway, we laugh and we cry and we break
                                                                                   Fm
and we make our mistakes
                                                               What is it like in his shoes?
                                                               Hamilton doesn't hesitate, he exhibits no restraint and he And if there's a reason I'm by her side when so many have takes and he takes and he takes
                    Am
Then I'm willing to wait for it And he keeps winning anyway, changes the game he plays and he raises the stakes
I'm willing to wait for it
                                                               And if there's a reason he seems to thrive when so few My grandfather was a fire and brimstone preacher survive, then goddamnit \mathsf{Am}
                                                               I'm willing to wait for it
But there are things that the homilies and hymns won't teach
                                                               I'm willing to wait for it
My mother was a genius

                                                               Am
My father commanded respect
                                                               Life doesn't discriminate between the sinners and the saints,
When they died they left no instructions
                                                               it takes and it takes and it takes Just a legacy to protect We keep living anyway, we rise and we fall and we break and we make our mistakes
Death doesn't discriminate between the sinners and the saints,
it takes and it takes and it takes
                                                               And if there's a reason I'm still alive while so many have died, then I'm willing to-
We keep living anyway, we rise and we fall and we break and we
                                                               Am F C G
make our mistakes
                                                                      Wait for it
                                                                          С
And if there's a reason I'm still alive while everyone who Wait for it
