VERSE:

```
              C                G
Well I'm not feeling myself today

Just a figure in a big monopoly game

C                       G
Struggle is the price you pay

You get just enough just to give it away

    C                            G
I'm sinking while they're floating away

Just throw me a line so I can anchor my pain

     C               G
The fabric is about to fray

                       D
The fabric is about to fray

( C    G   D )
Maybe      you could take a look at yourself lately

( C    G   D )
Maybe      you could take a look at yourself lately

( C    G   D )
Maybe      you could take a look at yourself lately

( C    G   D )
Things keep coming and I   keep wondering
And I start feeling the walls close in
Things keep coming and I   keep stumbling

( C    G   D )
I start feeling strong enough to break
```

```
I start feeling strong enough to break

( C    G   D )
I've been running through my mind today
Scenarios to add to your hypocrisy
No one ever takes the blame
But everyone is searching for a cure to the pain
Nothing ever seems to change
Oh, nothing ever seems to change
We just play like broken records in a deaf man's charade

( C    G   D )
Maybe you could take a look at yourself lately
Maybe you could take a look at yourself lately
Maybe you could take a look at yourself lately

Things keep coming and I keep wondering
And I start feeling the walls close in
Things keep coming and I keep stumbling
I start feeling strong enough to break
I start feeling strong enough to break
I start feeling strong enough

Ahhahhh...

C               C                    G
Carry on just a pawn and the same old song

I'm still holding on...
The fabric is about to fray

Maybe you could take a look at yourself lately
Maybe you could take a look at yourself lately
Things keep coming and I keep wondering
And I start feeling the walls close in
Things keep coming and I keep stumbling
I start feeling strong enough to break
I start feeling strong enough to break
I start feeling strong enough
Things keep coming and I keep wondering
And I start feeling the walls close in
Things keep coming and I keep stumbling
I start feeling strong enough to break

I start feeling strong enough...
Oh yeah
Strong enough to break
