

Harry Styles - To Be So Lonely

[Refrão]
                            tom:
                                                                  Don't call me "baby" again, you've got your reasons
                                                                  I know that you're trying to be friends, I know you mean it
Don't blame me for falling
                                                                  Don't call me "baby" again, it's hard for me to go home
I was just a little boy
Don?t blame the drunk caller
                                                               Be so lonely
Wasn't ready?for?it all
                                                                  To be so lonely, to be so
[Pré-Refrão]
                                                                  To be so lonely
You can't?blame me, darling
                                                                  To be so lonely, to be so
                                                                  To be so lonely
Not even a little?bit, I was away
I?m just an arrogant son of a bitch
                                                               [Ponte]
                                                               ( Am C )
Who can't admit when he's sorry
[Refrão]
                                                                  And I'm just an arrogant son of a bitch
  Don't call me "baby" again, you've got your reasons
                                                               Who can't admit when he's sorry
  I know that you're trying to be friends, I know you mean it [Refrão]
  Don't call me "baby" again, it's hard for me to go home
                                                                  Don't call me "baby" again, you've got your reasons
Be so lonely
                                                                  I know that you're trying to be friends, I know you mean it
[Segunda Parte]
                                                                  Don't call me "baby" again, it's hard for me to go home
I just hope you see me in a little better light
                                                               Be so lonely
Do you think it?s easy being of the jealous kind?
                                                                  To be so lonely, to be so
?Cause I miss the shape of your lips
                                                                  To be so lonely
Your wit, it's just a trick
                                                                  To be so lonely, to be so
This is it, so I?m sorry
                                                                  To be so lonely
