

Hartmann - In Another Life

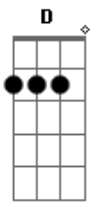

tom:
 I look around and realize that you're not there
 I'm searching for a place to run it could be anywhere
 I wonder if you think of me and if you still care
 I'm thinking to myself
 Sometimes life's just not fair
 Maybe in another life, maybe in another place
 Where we could find a way to get around
 A way to teach the truth we have to face
 Maybe in another world and maybe in another time
 Where we could turn the things around
 But things that really count, where I'd be yours
 And you'd be mine
 I'm still waiting for your call, but it doesn't ring
 Tongue tied I'm staring at the wall and distant voices sing
 Unspoken words and rhymes and melodies that you would never hear
 I'm lost in unexisting memories that we will never share
 Maybe in another life, maybe in another place

Where we could find a way, a way to work it out
 Where we're not meant to go on separate ways
 Maybe in another world and meet me in a different time
 Where I could turn it all around
 Find the love we never found where I'd be yours and you'd be mine
 But here and now, I guess there's nothing we could do No, no
 Here and now, I fear there is no space for me and you
 [Solo]
 Maybe in another life, maybe in another place
 Where we could find a way, a way to work it out
 Where we're not meant to go on separate ways
 Maybe in another world and meet me in a different time
 Where I could turn it all around
 Find the love we never found where I'd be yours and you'd be mine
 Maybe in another life, (in another place)
 Maybe in another place (in another life)
 Maybe in another life
 Maybe in another place
