Intro:  Gb   Bbm   Ebm   Db   B

  Gb                        Bbm
I've been going through the motions
                    Ebm
Learning how to pretend
          Db            B
That everything is perfect
  Gb                        Bbm
And I've been sinking in an ocean
                    Ebm
Drowning but I'm silent
          Db            B
Yet everyone thinks I'm afloat
  Gb                        Bbm
I'm running through mazes, mazes
                        Ebm
Maybe it's just a phase but regardless
        Db              B
I'm flipping the pages, pages
                    Gb
I'm going through changes
                    Bbm
But I swear I'm the same
                        Ebm
Could you show me some patience
            B
Along the way?
                        Gbm
I'm going through changes
                    Bbm
But I swear I'm the same
                        Ebm
Could you show me some mercy
            B
If I start to stray?
    Gb                      Bbm
I've been chasing aft?r feelings
                    Ebm
```

```
Most of which are fleeting
I still feel empty
            Gb                    Bbm
And I've been trying hard to fit in
                        Ebm
But how com? I'm so different
        Db          B
From everyone I see?
                            Gb
I'm running through mazes, mazes
                        Bbm
Maybe it's just a phase but regardless
                        Ebm         B
I'm flipping the pages, pages
                            Gb
I'm going through changes
                    Bbm
But I swear I'm the same
                        Ebm
Could you show me some patience
Along the way?

                            Gb
I'm going through changes
                    Bbm
But I swear I'm the same
                        Ebm
Could you show me some mercy
                    B
If I start to stray?
                        Gb
Trying to fight the seasons
                    Bbm
Trying to find my meaning
                    Ebm
Maybe there's a reason
Why I'm going through these changes
