

Heffron Drive - Parallel

tom:
Capostrate na 3ª casa

Counting stars, laying in the grass
Side by side, your head on my shoulder
We talk a lot about nothing much
With every breath, we're getting closer
Parallel in this universe
Do we light up our hearts just to watch 'em burn?
Parallel, are we crossing lines?

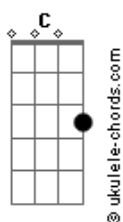

'Cause maybe tonight
The stars align
The stars align
What if the one who was meant for you,
Was all along right in front of you?
Just didn't see it, it was there all the time
Can you feel it tonight, yeah

The stars align
The stars align

I take the thoughts out of your mind
And put the pieces into a puzzle
Everything I wanna say about you
Is more than enough to write a novel

Parallel in this universe

Acordes

Do we light up our hearts just to watch 'em burn?
Parallel, are we crossing lines?

'Cause maybe tonight
The stars align
The stars align

What if the one who was meant for you
Was all along right in front of you?
Just didn't see it, it was there all the time
Got a feeling tonight, yeah
The stars align

I'd throw a rope around the moon
And pull it close
Whatever it takes to be with you
Maybe tonight

Maybe tonight the stars align
The stars align

What if the one who was meant for you,
Was all along right in front of you?
Just didn't see it, it was there all the time
Got a feeling tonight, yeah

The stars align
The stars align
The stars align
