

High Tropics - Caroline

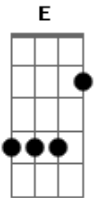

tom:
 I was walking down the street last night
 I was looking at the city skies
 You were thinking about leaving me
 And I was hoping we could wait and see
 And now you're looking for a place to go
 I was hoping we could take it slow
 But it's so easy to fall for you
 The more you say the less you do
 And my hearts breaking every step you take
 You didn't have the guts to say
 I was driving through your town last night
 I was hoping we could get it right
 You were thinking about leaving me
 And I was hoping we could wait and see

But it's so easy to fall for you
 The more you say the less you do
 And my hearts breaking every step you take
 You didn't have the guts to say
 But it's so easy to fall for you
 And nothing that you said was true
 But my hearts breaking every step you take
 You didn't have the guts to stay
 The warning signs were right there written on the wall
 With all the things that you said you never did at all
 But it's so easy to fall for you
 The more you say the less you do
 And my hearts breaking every step you take
 You didn't have the guts to say
 Oh Caroline one day at a time
 I've just got to make you mine
