                                                                  Good news embracing the poor
There?s no darkness in Your eyes
                                                                  Comfort for all those who mourn
There?s no question in Your mind
God almighty
                                                                  For the broken hearted
God of mercy
                                                                  We sing louder
There?s no hiding from Your face
                                                                  Release from prison and shame
There?s no striving in Your grace
                                                                  Oppression turning to praise
God of mercy
                                                                  For every captive
God almighty
Let there be light
                                                                  Sing louder
Open the eyes of the blind
Purify our hearts in Your fire
                                                                  Restoring sight to the blind
Breathe in us we pray
                                                                  Breaking the curse of the night

Jesus have Your way
                                                                  For all in darkness
There?s no borders in Your love
                                                                  Sing louder
No division in Your heart
                                                                  Proclaiming freedom for all
God of heaven
God of freedom
                                                                  This is the day of the Lord
There?s no taking back the cross
                                                                  Beauty for ashes
No regret in what it cost
                                                                  Let there be light
God of freedom
God of heaven
                                                                  Open the eyes of the blind
Let there be light
                                                                  Purify our hearts in Your fire
Open the eyes of the blind
Purify our hearts in Your fire
                                                                  Breathe in us we pray
Breathe in us we pray
                                                                  Let there be light
Let there be light
Open our eyes to Your heart
                                                                  Open our eyes to Your heart
Desperate just to know who
You are Shine in us we pray
