

Hoodoo Gurus - Come Anytime

```
tom:
                                                        [Refrão]
Intro: A Em G
                                                        D G Am Em
   A Em G
       A Em G
                                                        Come anytime
      A Em G
                                                                   Am Em
                                                        D G
                                                        Come anytime
[Primeira Parte]
                                                        D G Am Em
                                                        Come anytime
What is it you want from me?
                                                        And if you can't make up your mind
              Fm G
                                                         Em
There isn't much I will not do
                                                        We could make it up together
       Em G
If it's only company
                                                        What is it you want from me?
              Em
You know, I might need that too, Won't you?
                                                                      Em G
                                                        You won't shock me easily
D G
                                                        (A Em G)
Come anytime (Come anytime)
                                                        [Terceira Parte]
I'm a man of leisure
D G Am
Come anytime (Come anytime)
                                                        Maybe it's your heart's desire
                                                                      Em
I await your pleasure
                                                        Maybe it's your wildest dream
                                                               Em G
                                                        Maybe I'm a gun-for-hire but [Segunda Parte]
                                                                    Fm G
                                                        Baby, don't we make quite a team, don't we?
                Fm
There's nothing new beneath the sun
                                                        Don't we?
              Em
We've butchered every sacred cow
                                                        [Refrão]
                       Fm
Don't tell me about all the things you might have done
 A Em
Just tell me what are you doing now, right now?
                                                        Come anytime (you're so inclined)
                                                         Em
                                                        I won't give you trouble
[Refrãol
D G
                                                        Come anytime (you're goin' blind)
Come anytime (Come anytime)
                                                                     Em
                                                        Or you're seeing double
 Em
I won't give you pressure
                                                            G
                                                                               Am
                                                        And I have never been the kind, who'd want to
Come anytime (Come anytime)
                                                        Who'd want to burst your bubble
  Em
I can wait forever
                                                        [Final]
D G
And if you can't make up your mind
                                                              G Am
We could make it up together
                                                        Come anytime, (Come anytime)
                                                        D G Am Em
                                                        Come anytime, (Come anytime)
(A Em G)
(A Em G)
                                                        D G Am Em
                                                        Come anytime, (Come anytime)
                                                        And if you can't make up your mind
Things like this happen every day
                                                           Em
                                                        (If you can't make up your mind)
Whatever happens, it's 0.K
Em A Em A
Why be afraid, when we've got it made
                                                        And if you can't make up your mind
                                                        Why don't we? Make it up together
Acordes
                            Εn
                                  ukulele-chords.com
```

I'll never ask you to explain