

Hozier - Sunlight

Oh, your love is sunlight
                            tom:
Intro: Em
                                                               Oh, your love is sunlight
                                                               But it is sunlight, sunlight
[Primeira Parte]
\bar{\text{I}} would shun the light, share in evening's cool and quiet
                                                                      D G
                                                                                   Bm7
                                                               Oh, all these colors fade for you (only)
Who would trade that hum of night
                                                               Am B Em D
                                                               Hold me, carry me slowly, my sunlight
            G
For sunlight, sunlight, sunlight
                                                                        D G
                                                                                       Bm7
                                                               Oh, all these colors fade for you (only)
Am B Em D G
But whose heart would not take flight
                                                               Hold me, carry me slowly, my sunlight
Betray the moon as acolyte
On first and fierce affirming sight
                                                               [Terceira Parte]
Of sunlight, sunlight, sunlight
                                                               Each day, you'd rise with me
[Refrão]
                                                               Know that I would gladly be
                                                               The Icarus to your certainty
I had been lost to you sunlight
                                                               Oh, my sunlight, sunlight, sunlight
And flew like a moth to you, sunlight, oh, sunlight
Oh, your love is sunlight
                                                               Strap the wings to me
Oh, your love is sunlight
                                                               Death trap clad happily
            Em
Oh, but it is sunlight
                                                               With wax melted, I'd meet the sea
[Segunda Parte]
                                                               Under sunlight, sunlight, sunlight
All the tales the same
                                                               [Refrão]
Told before and told again
                                                               Oh, your love is sunlight
A soul that?s born in cold and rain
Knows sunlight, sunlight, sunlight
                                                               But it is sunlight
And at last can grant a name
To a buried and a burning flame
                                                               Oh, your love is sunlight
As love and its decisive pain
                                                               But it is sunlight
[Refrão]
                                                                        Em
                                                               But it is sunlight
All that was shown to me, sunlight
There's somethin' foreknown to me, sunlight, oh sunlight
                                                               Oh, your love is sunlight
Oh, your love is sunlight
                                                               Oh, your love is sunlight
                                                                        Em
                                                               But it is sunlight
Oh, your love is sunlight
But it is sunlight
                                                               Sunlight, sunlight, sunlight, sunlight
