

Hyde - Cape Of Storms

tom:

tada! for all you little budding guitarists out there, here is the guitar tabs for the it, please let me know! the sine at the end goes back to the line "you know completely" the chorus, that's what the dashed line down the tab is, so start again after that. at the end where the / is, there's some sort of bridge that i haven't figured out yet. you happen to figure that out, please please please tell me! my e-mail's arigatou!

So where do I sail? A ship losing control My cries swallowed up, lost in the raging sea So where has love gone? Will I ever reach it?

The Cape of Storms echoes the pain I feel inside You'll never notice

know completely

The colour of sin Just as the storm clouds closes in It's dark

The taste of sin Melting sweet in your mouth Like chocolate

Here in the shadows I am pursued Until the ends of the earth
A moment of pleasure You are fulfilled But every dream has its time

Embraced The ghost ship wanders far For there is no guiding star
To die

And this treasure has no meaning anymore So where do I sail?

A ship losing control My cries swallowed up, lost in the raging sea

So where has love gone? Will I ever reach it? The Cape of Storms echoes the pain I feel inside /
