

Iggy Azalea - Team

```
Tom: G
                                                                    Baby, I got me
   Intro: C Am G D
                                                                Baby, I got me
                                                                And that's all I need
Look. Turn me up, break the knob right
                                                                Yeah that's all I need
I get dressed like it's prom night
                                                                Baby, I got me
I feed them lemons in the limelight
                                                                Only friend I need
They say I'm full, lost my appetite
                                                                              D (deixa soar)
                                                                Playing on my team
(Hell nah) Keep on pushing like a dealer
                                                                Is someone like
(Hell nah) Keep on shooting, Reggie Miller
                                                                     Me, baby, no way
(Hell nah) Go and give 'em all the finger
                                                                Watch me while I do my thing
You gotta set the score right, call it Hans Zimmer
                                                                Oh, baby, no way
My time wherever I go
                                                                Are you fucking with the team?
I took a chance like I'm from Chicago
                                                                Are you workin' with some cash here, cash here?
100 in that Murcielago
D (deixa soar)
Bout to go ape, hey! Turn it to the Congo
                                                                Hundred thousand on the dash yeah, dash yeah
                                                                All my ladies shake it fast yeah, fast yeah
    Baby, I got me
                                                                Now vogue on that ass, yup! Yeah we in here
Baby, I got me
                                                                Are you workin' with some cash here, cash here?
And that's all I need
                                                                Hundred thousand on the dash yeah, dash yeah
Yeah that's all I need
                                                                All my ladies shake it fast yeah, fast yeah
Baby, I got me
                                                                    D (deixa soar)
                                                                Now vogue on that ass, yup! Yeah we in here
Only friend I need
               D (deixa soar)
Playing on my team
                                                                    Baby, I got me
Is someone like
                                                                Baby, I got me
Me, baby, no way
                                                                And that's all I need
Watch me while I do my thing
                                                                Yeah that's all I need
Oh, baby, no way
                                                                Baby, I got me
Are you fucking with the team?
                                                                Only friend I need
                                                                Playing on my team
  Outchea, pronto
                                                                Is someone like
Hit 'em with the dose, that's a combo
                                                                     Me, baby, no way
Running through ya block, no fumble
                                                                Watch me while I do my thing
Bout to kill 'em all, where the shovel?
                                                                Oh, baby, no way
See I gotta go for mine
                                                                Are you fucking with the team?
Benja-jammin, that money on my mind
Jamaican club, I'm stayin' on the grind
                                                                    Team, team
                                                                    Team, team
Dutty wine, don't step on this land mine!
                                                                    Team, team
 Ven aqui, andele
                                                                Are you fuckin' with the team?
You tryna take flight? Do what I say
                                                                Are you fuckin' with the team?
D (deixa soar)
   100 vogues on the highway
Watch a new car dash, call me Kylie
                                                                Are you fuckin' with the team?
                                                                Are you fuckin' with the team?
