

Imperial Mammoth - Requiem On Water

tom: ^G Up close we stumble ^F backwards
 Laughing in our boat ^C 'til

^C Slow we paddle through the lake
 Straight to the very ^F center
 Of the darkest ^C water

Where we can embrace
 The shadows on the surface
 The eyes that look up ^F lifeless
 From our twins ^C below

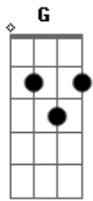

^{Am} And though your arms and legs are under ^C Love will be the echo in your
^{Am} Ears when all is lost to plunder
^C My love will be there still

^C True it's chilling to behold

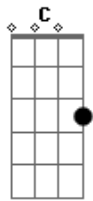

The image sinks away
 To someplace far but certain
 A land of new ^F suspension
 Where someday we must ^C go
^{Am} And though your arms and legs are under
^C Love will be the echo in your
^{Am} Ears when all is lost to plunder
^C My love will be there still

^{Am} Though your arms and legs are under
^C Love will be the echo in your
^{Am} Ears when all is lost to plunder
^C My love will be there still
