

Isabelle Lobo - A Lonely Love

Tom: C

Hello, we've not seen each other for a while
And I want to tell you that I'm missing you.

I know some things made you go.
But I have to tell you, to tell you

I need your love, I need your hug
I need your attention because your attention is all
I love you so much and I need you now

I know that you don't love me like you did
But I know that you feel a couple of love

I won't get in your way, baby, don't you worry
I just have to tell you that, to tell you that

I need your love, I need your hug

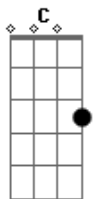

I need your attention because your attention is all
I love you so much and I need you now 2x

I just want you with me
But I can't have you now
I hope someday I can have you, again
Because I need to because I need to

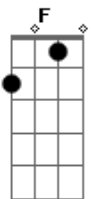

I need your love, I need your hug
I need your attention because your attention is all
I love you so much and I need you now
I need your love, I need your hug

I need your attention because your attention is all
I love you so much and I need you now
I love you so much and I need you now
