

Israel Kamakawiwo'ole - Margarita

```
Tom: G
                                                                The coconut plantations, the sea and sky above
                                                                The South Pacific islands they are all caressing you
Intro 4x: G C
                                                                C G C
On a hilltop in Tahiti, as I gaze across the bay
                                                                  Yorana \operatorname{can^1t} you stand the heat Yorana dancing in bare feet
                        D7
                                                                                           GCG D7
At the island of Morea, standing in the day
                                                                  Yorana when you laugh at me Yorana I.....I<sup>1</sup>m in ecstacy
And I love thee margarita, serve me cool Hinano beer
                                                                The crimson dress you¹re wearing, with nothing underneath
                                D7
I¹ll be a fool in paradise for five full hours here
                                                                                                      D7
                                                                The flower there behind your ear, the grass beneath your feet
C G C
                                                                Margarita, margarita, please dance with me tonight
 Yorana can¹t you stand the heat Yorana dancing in bare feet
                                                                                                 D7
                                                                We will dance together where the stars are shining bright
                          GCG D7
 Yorana when you laugh at me Yorana I.....I<sup>1</sup>m in ecstacy
                                                                \mathsf{C} \quad \mathsf{G} \quad \mathsf{C}
                                                                                              G C G
My name is margarita, and the salt upon your lips
                                                                  Yorana can¹t you stand the heat Yorana dancing in bare feet
                                                                                          G C G D7
Tell me lemon and tequila is the flavor of your kiss
                                                                  Yorana when you laugh at me Yorana I.....I^{1}m in ecstacy
All the magic and the beauty and the humor of this isle
                                                                Margarita, margarita, I come from far away
                                    D7
Is captured like a goldfish in the sparkle of your smile
                                                                Let¹s go take a dive in Makawi¹i Bay
                                                                Margarita, margarita, we walkin¹, in the lair
C G C
                              G C G
 Yorana can¹t you stand the heat Yorana dancing in bare feet
                                                                                      D7
                                                       G C G C We go in the dark and we don¹t need a spear
                          GCG D7
 Yorana when you laugh at me Yorana I.....I¹m in ecstacy
                                                                C G C
                                                                                              G C G
                                                                                                          D7
The sunshine warms the mountain and makes you golden brown
                                                                  Yorana \operatorname{can^1t} you stand the heat Yorana dancing in bare feet
                                  D7
                                                                                           GCG D7
The water laps around you where I only hope to drown
                                                                  Yorana when you laugh at me Yorana I.....I^{1}m in ecstacy
```

Acordes

